Dear Parents, Guardians, and Trainees,

As we close this academic year, I am grateful for the tremendous growth and progress we have achieved as a college community. Your commitment, together with the hard work and discipline of our trainees, continues to make Kaelo TVC a rising centre of excellence in technical and vocational training.

As we look forward to 2026, I urge all parents and guardians to continue supporting their children through timely fee payments, close monitoring, and encouraging them to embrace discipline, hard work, and positive character. Technical training is the backbone of economic development, and together we are shaping a future generation that is skilled, confident, and ready for opportunities.
